BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, MAY 4.

POLICE COURT.—The Magistrate is still absent, but his presence could not help the cause of justice much. There is but one prisoner in the cells.

THE "ADVANCE."—As we anticipated, the "Advance" was off about yesterday afternoon. She now lies at the wharf, where she is being rigged, preparatory to taking her place among the traders from this port.

THE "STARLING."—The beautiful little steam yacht "Starling," owned by C. J. Starling, Esq., is about to leave a cylinder of 17 feet diameter than the one now on board, destined to her engine. It is expected that this will give her a speed of about 15 miles per hour.

EMIGRANTS.—Nine cars of English emigrants passed west to day at noon, per Grand Trunk, all of whom were happy to say remain in Canada. Several parties went to the Station endeavoring to get some of them to stop here, but without success. Ten more cars of emigrants left Montreal this morning for the west.

REVENUE AGENT.—The Ottawa Free Press of last evening says: "We have to-day that letters have been received here from acquaintances of Louis Riel, stating that it is Riel's intention to personally cheer after cheer as given as they passed through the streets, and 'God bless the brave fellows' went up from a ship and heard."

RED RIVER.—The Volunteers from this District left Kingston for Toronto last evening by the steamer "City." They were escorted to the wharf by the City Volunteers and a large crowd of people. They were given golden opinions for their bravery, and cheer after cheer as given as they passed through the streets, and "God bless the brave fellows" went up from a ship and heard."

THE FORD LETTER.—Mr. Johnson has received a letter purporting to come from the person who wrote the forged letter, in which he acknowledges his guilt, but protests it was done in a joke (we fail to see where the laugh comes in) and that he only wrote one of them. While the letter has some evidence of truth about it, it is not by any means satisfactory; the person writes in pen and ink, and gives his initials. He will call on Mr. Johnson and acknowledge it personally. Mr. Johnson gives himself he will not prosecute him. If he does not, it will still be left in the hands of the police.

WHAT IS DONE FOR EMIGRANTS.—The Kingston Whig referring to the arrival of 85 Scotch emigrants at this City, says they are all now comfortably situated. They are in the most eligible portion of the township. To show that Canada, and especially Pictou County, has attention for the emigrants, we may state that the Kingston Protestant Benevolent Society last night, whether reported in point of attendance or of articles of clothing, the hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and many were obliged to turn away, unable to obtain seats, or even standing room. Before the performance commenced, P. McNamee, Esq., President of the Society, delivered a short address, which was well received. The programme was too lengthy for review in full, but it is sufficient to say that everything was performed as set down, and not a single one was made for the non-appearance of any of the performers, something unusual in a amateur concert. The singing and instrumental were wonderfully good, though, as usual, the songs went with most favor. The tobacco room was luxuriously furnished and the refreshments were excellent. The ladies were dressed in the latest fashion, and the whole was a most successful affair.

The Concert Last Night.

Celebrately one of the most successful amateur entertainments which ever took place in Belleville, was the concert of the Protestant Benevolent Society last night, whether reported in point of attendance or of articles of clothing, the hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and many were obliged to turn away, unable to obtain seats, or even standing room. Before the performance commenced, P. McNamee, Esq., President of the Society, delivered a short address, which was well received. The programme was too lengthy for review in full, but it is sufficient to say that everything was performed as set down, and not a single one was made for the non-appearance of any of the performers, something unusual in a amateur concert. The singing and instrumental were wonderfully good, though, as usual, the songs went with most favor. The tobacco room was luxuriously furnished and the refreshments were excellent. The ladies were dressed in the latest fashion, and the whole was a most successful affair.

The North-West.

The Hon. Mr. McCully, Chairman of the Committee appointed by the Senate to examine witnesses from the Red River, relative to the climate, resources, &c., of that country, has addressed a letter to Sir John A. Macdonald, based on the testimony of those witnesses. From it we condense the following interesting particulars: There are but few portions of this continent which hold out greater attractions for settlers than the North-West Territory, namely, all the country north of the boundary west of the Lake of the Woods, including both banks of the Assiniboine, and the north and south banks and branches of the Saskatchewan River to the foot of the Rocky Mountains. The country east of the Lake of the Woods and skirting the north bank of Rensselaer River is found to be fertile and valuable, both for timber and for cultivation. He advocates the construction of a railway from Fort William to Lac du Lac, a narrow gauge, adopting the new double boggy engine of Mr. Pullman, the system of light wagons and low wheels, and is assured that a company can be organized, that would undertake this railway immediately and work it at their own risk. He is assured on good authority, that with even the present appliances, the above section on L.R. River, recently constructed, and that from Fort Garry eastward, taking into consideration that the trip can be made from Fort William to Fort Garry, 141 miles, within 25 days, with sections of railways completed at each end of the road, 40 miles at each end, 60 miles at the west, 150 miles at the east, with steamers transiting Rensselaer River, Lake of the Woods, and Lake of the Woods, the distance from Toronto to Fort Garry might be overcome in less than ten days. He thinks that to encourage trade and traffic by way of Lake Superior, and to induce the Government of Canada should, among other things, look out inducements to suitable persons to establish places of entertainment along the route, say 10 to 20 miles apart, having such accommodations as would be adapted to the necessities of travellers and hunters, such as taking the route to Red River. Around these hotels or houses of entertainment, or many of them, shops or trading posts would speedily spring up, and hunters and trappers, Indians and half-breeds and settlers would come to exchange their furs and peltries for supplies. At Fort William large stores or warehouses would become indispensable, and would soon be erected, from which supplies could be forwarded, both summer and winter, to the same traders inland. He is of opinion that the military force for Red River should be followed up with a telegraph line, commencing at Fort William, to be constructed by the Government, and to be placed in the hands of the Government and public as well would be kept informed by each successive steamer arriving from the head of the lake, of the progress and success of the expedition. Steamers between Collingwood and Fort William make the passage three times a fortnight. Intelligence will be had from Fort William, and it is hardly to be doubted that by employing couriers du bois, a light mail for letters may be transmitted with present summer as rapidly and more securely, between Canada and the Red River, than via St. Cloud and Penman, at a comparatively small outlay. A line can be constructed from the Red River to Fort William, and this effected, a sub-terminating cable could be laid without difficulty down Lake Superior, and connected to connect with the Canadian lines, putting the people of the North-West in continuous uninterrupted communication with the rest of the world. He states the expense of the passage from Toronto to Fort William, without board, at seven dollars, and thinks—without he possesses no material from which to estimate the cost of transporting emigrants across from Fort William to the Red River, but thinks it would be for $20 or $30, and that the time employed would not exceed twelve or fourteen days. But with a railway from Fort William, forty miles steam navigation on the two reaches, thence to the north-west angle, Lake of the Woods, and a railway thence to Fort Garry, to reach the whole distance should be done in three days, that bringing Fort Garry within seven days travel of Toronto, and he believes this will soon be accomplished.

He referred to the evidence of Mr. Monkman, the self-bred guide, who had visited the Indian tribes between Fort Garry and Lake Superior, and he says the presentation of tobacco and pipes by the Indians, distributed among the Chiefs of the tribes, would have a most happy and beneficial effect. He received it as a token of distinguished respect, and the knowledge of the fact will tend to give the Indians with great rapidity, and be the subject of much rejoicing among the tribes around the camp-fires. Too much importance, therefore, can hardly be attached to the necessity of an early and satisfactory settlement with the natives of the country. He concludes, by saying much of the success in settling and colonizing the North-West will now depend upon the legislation about to be adopted, in order to provide a suitable constitution for the new territory, with the rights of all persons and parties in the Territory, as they were previous to the outbreak, guaranteed in the fullest manner, are what all desire and expect.

PROVINCIAL CHIEF BLACK CHAPTER.—Here Kootenay, who was lately congratulated upon the great success of his public career in Belleville, Messrs. Harris kindly furnished of the place and on the occasion.

Parliament Yesterday.

After some routine business a brief discussion took place on the North West Bill, when John A. Macdonald asked that the House "call adjourn at six o'clock till tomorrow, as the Government had a great deal of business to attend to."

Mr. Mackenzie's complaint of the delay, and asked why the printed copies of the Bill were not yet down.

Sir John A. Macdonald explained that the Bill was not yet ready, several clauses being still incomplete.

Mr. Macdonald taunted the Minister of Justice with receiving Riel's emissaries and a lot of doing his duty.

Sir John A. Macdonald defended himself and said that the Government-General had resolved to receive these representatives from the Territory, and the Government also valued themselves for their knowledge of the subject, for the purpose of settling claim, and restoring order.

Mr. Macdonald contended that Father Riel had been an instigator of the rebellion. He spoke of the contemptible character of Riel, and that he was pained to hear that the Minister of Militia had publicly walked arm in arm with Riel.

Sir Geo. E. Cartier considered that he had a perfect right to choose his company.

Mr. Howe asked (if it was dishonorable to treat with those people, when His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, when at Pembina, had written a sneaking, cowardly, and infamous letter, asking Riel to meet him on the spot. (Great excitement.)

Mr. Bowell—It had been committed a murder; that altered the question. (Loud cheers.)

Mr. McLaughlin said he would give to the hon. gentleman the answer that he expected. His answer was, that he was in the Government of Canada, that was a traitor to the British Crown. (Great excitement.) A man with whom he was obliged to hold official correspondence, who had told him that he had committed the crime, and the authority of the Canadian Government in that country; and in order to guard against the attacks of the hon. gentleman, he thought it his duty to give an invitation to the leader of the rebels to lead a conference with him as to the cause of disturbance, so that might be in his power to say that he had exhausted every expedient within his reach. (Heard, heard.) He knew the reputation that he would meet with from the hon. gentleman, and he called the attention of the House and country to the fact that the hon. gentleman had secured at every loyal representative of Canada in that country. (Cheers.)

The subject then dropped.

Mr. Howe asked when the supplementary estimates would be brought down.

Sir Francis Hincks replied that they would be brought down tomorrow.

The House went into Committee on the Supplementary Bill, and passed the resolutions without amendment.

The House went into Committee on the Bank of Upper Canada Bill, which was passed without amendment.

Sir John A. Macdonald stated that the Election Bill would be dropped. He also stated that the Supreme Court Bill, the Northwest Bill and the Territorial Bill were the only important measures before them, there was a prospect of soon closing the session. The House then adjourned at six o'clock.

Our Ontario Battalion.

The following are the officers gazetted to take command of the Ontario Battalion for the Red River Expedition, with the rank they formerly held in the Militia, the corps and the military district from which they were selected:

LIEUTENANT COLONEL—Samuel P. Jarvis, Lieut. Colonel, Volunteer Militia, D. A. G. Militia, Military District No. 2.

From Red River.

News from Red River has been received up to the 15th April. A Red River trader and hunter, who has been in the country for some time, and is being driven from the American territory and are crossing over the British boundary, and it is feared they will give the Hudson Bay hunters trouble.

An encounter between the Sioux and the Crow was expected.

Bishop Tache is said to be working night and day to preserve peace among the Indians, half-breeds and whites.

Parson, who shot Robertson, died of his wounds on the 9th ult.

Good times are looked for this spring. The hunters and traders are reported richly laden with robes and provisions. The catch of fish has been a failure, but the supply of Buffalo robes is a good deal larger than it has been for years.

Daily Intelligence.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, MAY 13.

HEAVY SHOWERS.—Yesterday this section of country was visited by a succession of heavy showers. In some localities the rain was accompanied by thunder and lightning, and in others by heavy hailstones. About two miles and a half east of Belleville, the lightning struck a telegraph pole, tearing out a piece of the wood the entire length of the pole. We have not heard of any damage being done by the storm.

ST. "ROCHESTER."—Attention is directed to the advertisement, in another column, of this favorite steamer, which is now, and has been since the opening of navigation, plying between Belleville and Kingston. Under command of Capt. Johnson, she admirably performs the daily service between the two ports. Her hours of departure are: From Belleville, at 6 o'clock a. m.; reaching Kingston about noon; leaving Kingston at 3:30 p. m., and arriving at Belleville before midnight. Mr. Tanssill is the agent for Belleville.

GRACE EGERTON'S ENTERTAINMENT.—Split of the lowering skies of last evening, Ontario Hall was crowded by amusement-seekers to witness the entertainment provided by Grace Egerton (Mrs. Geo. Case) and her husband. The performance was by the Western press in sounding her praise have not been misapprehended, for she is undoubtedly the cleverest performer in her line who has been in the city. Mr. Case was a very useful auxiliary, his violin and concertina playing being much appreciated. They will undoubtedly have a crowded house to-night.

THE WOOL SEASON.—The wool season is now approaching and with a view of obtaining the best price for a good sample, a contemporary gives a few words of advice to those interested. The first requisite is that the fleece should be well washed and cleaned—let the sheep be well docked, and the wool kept free from burrs and dirt. Wool buyers deduct one-third of the price and weight of dirty, burred and matted wool, so that it is a serious loss to the farmer to bring in inferior samples to the market at all, when he has the means of working it up profitably at home. From present indications we are assured that the highest figure will be had earliest in the season.

Red River Expedition.

Last evening Brigade-Major Phillips left Kingston for Toronto with the final draft of volunteers for this district for Red River.

The regular force of the expedition is to be increased by the addition of five more companies from the 60th Rifle, making seven companies in all; and it is rumored that 150 men of the R. O. Rifle Regiment who are now receiving their discharge, will be received in addition.

The Ontario Battalion at the Crystal Palace, Toronto, is said to be complete. The Quebec Battalion is not yet full. It is reported that the time fixed for the departure of the troops for Fort William, is Saturday the 14th inst.

Hastings Rifle Association.

At the annual meeting held last Tuesday evening, the Secretary, Captain Bogart, gave an report from which it appears the Association is in a very flourishing condition.

Although it was only formed last July, they have placed 143 names on its membership roll, and had an annual match at which over $250 was given away in money and other valuables, and are determined to do still better this year.

The receipts from all sources was $165 88, and the expenditure $121 07, leaving a balance on hand of $44 71, a very good start for the ensuing year. The match yielded $55 73 to the funds of the Association.

—Lt.-Col. A. Campbell was re-elected President, and Lt.-Col. James Brown and Captain W. C. Mann were also re-elected 1st and 2nd Vice-Presidents respectively. Captain Hambley, as Treasurer, and Capt. Bogart, as Secretary, agreed to allow Capt. and Adj. Hambley to succeed the former and Capt. Bogart to succeed the latter in the management of the affairs for the ensuing year. The intention is to affiliate with the Dominion and Ontario Rifle Associations, and thereby give our marksmen a chance of earning for themselves laurels in place of large competitions which take place annually.

The annual match will take place earlier in the season this year, it being too late last year (Nov. 10th), to do justice to the marksmen. We congratulate the officers of the Association upon the prosperous condition of affairs, and wish them as much success in the future as they have had in the past.

—The newest style for dressing the hair is called "the Cloisters." The hair is brushed high off the forehead and down the sides of the neck, surrounded by a large imitation curls, which is curled around the head.

Sir John A. Macdonald.

Every one learned with profound regret of the unfavorable turn the disease of the First Minister took yesterday, and we anxiously was anxious to ascertain its condition soon. We learn by telegram and by other means, that at about half past four yesterday afternoon, he was somewhat recovered, but remained again about six, and remained in a very low condition until eleven, when he had an interval of sleep and became much easier. A despatch at one o'clock this morning announced that there was every prospect of his spending a quiet night.

A despatch about ten o'clock this forenoon said he passed a comfortable night and was easier than.

A telegram from Ottawa this p. m., from the Doctors report that Sir John A. Macdonald is more comfortable.

LATER.

OTTAWA, MAY 13, 4 p. m.
Sir John has passed a good night, and his condition is considerably better. He has been comparatively free from pain, though still very weak, and his physicians take a more hopeful view of his case. Dr. Campbell, of Montreal, arrived early this morning, and is in constant attendance on him.

Immigration.

The following statistics respecting immigration during the past four years are supplied by the Committee on Emigration and Colonization, at the meeting of which yesterday, a statement was presented from Mr. Tache, giving answers to certain questions put to him by the Committee. In this he informs the Committee that an change has been made in the Immigration policy of the Government, further than the appointment of new emigration agents, two for Ireland, Messrs. Moyle and Foy, and one for Scotland.

The number of immigrants who have arrived through Canada for the United States for the last four years were, for 1860, 41,704; 1867, 47,212; 1868, 58,083; 1869, 57,170. The numbers remaining in Canada were, for 1866, 10,001; for 1867, 10,608; 1868, 12,785; 1869, 16,000. The nationalities of immigrants landed in Quebec during the year 1869 were as follows: English, 14,691; Irish, 3,330; Scotch, 2,774; German, 1,054; Scandinavians, 30,120; other nationalities, 233. Two Manitoba Bills.

This Bill was under consideration for three days, during which some 15 or 20 amendments were offered and rejected. The Government, however, were compelled to accede to three amendments, the enlargement of the Territory, the extension of the franchise to those who had been driven from the territory for their loyalty, and other minor points. If we are to judge from the reports in our city newspapers, we should imagine they had lively times in the capital. We take the following extract from the report of the second day of debate upon this question:

Mr. BOWELL said the adoption of a clause, continuing in office the present officers of the Government, was an important point, which he thought should be explained. The Government of the Dominion had in accepting the delegates, as the representatives of the people of Red River, recognized the Provisional Government of the Territory, which he thought it was in that territory, with itself as President.

Mr. FRANCIS HICKES—No, no.

Mr. BOWELL—The Minister of Finance might cry No, but it was the only logical conclusion that could be arrived at. He saw by the latest advice from the North West, that field had been swearing in officers for the management of the Territory. They, therefore, might be considered the officers who should continue in office until they received the Government about to be established by that Act. Hence arose the important question whether it would be better to continue the Hudson Bay Company's employees rather than those whom the Government was sending in. (Mr. B.) regretted that the hon. member for Colchester had expressed the opinion that any insult offered to the delegates from Red River would be looked upon as an insult to the people of Red River. He desired that those men represented the country, and he considered it an availing disgrace to the Government that they should have consulted the delegates sent by the Convention, and given them the ministerial Bill provided. He did not object to the hearing of these men's opinions, but to acknowledge them as the representatives of the Red River and acting upon their advice, while the people like Dr. Schultz and Lynch were refused a hearing, was wholly unjustifiable.

Mr. F. HICKES denied that he ever had an interview with any of the delegates before the bill was introduced. He said he had several with Dr. Schultz, and other delegates, and that he had been very much surprised to find that the bill was introduced without their consent. regard to the title confirmed by the Hon. Mr. Gwynne.

Some slight amendments were made to the Bill, after which the Committee rose and reported, and asked leave to sit again on Friday.

The House then passed resolutions relating to the establishment of the Government of Manitoba.

Parliament Yesterday.

After routine business, Sir George E. Cartier, referring to Sir John A. Macdonald's illness, announced that he was still in a very precarious condition.

The House then went into committee, and the item for the expense of the military expedition to the Northwest was considered.

Mr. Mason (Saskatchewan) moved in amendment that in the opinion of this House, the day of entering order, and re-establishing the authority of the Crown in the Red River settlement properly appertained to the Imperial authorities, and that the military expedition composed mainly of Canadian volunteers, and the cost to be mainly borne by the Dominion, is the highest degree expedient.

Mr. Duffrès did not see the necessity for a military expedition.

Mr. Francis Hinkes announced that the money had been paid for the Territory, and that the Territory would be transferred to the Dominion of Canada in about a month's time. He considered that it was too late to take any action.

Mr. Dorion was opposed to sending a military force to Red River.

Mr. Mackenzie was grieved at the course taken by Mr. Dorion.

Mr. J. H. Cameron announced that the representatives of the loyal party in Red River, were satisfied with the Bill as it passed, mentioning the name of Dr. Schultz.

After some further discussion the item of the Bill respecting Bill of Exchange and Promissory notes, the Supreme Court Bill and other Bills were discharged.

On the motion for the third reading of the Supply Bill, Mr. Tremblay moved that no sum of money should be applied for the purpose of sending an expedition to the Northwest Territory inasmuch as the responsibility of such expedition should be undertaken by the Government of Great Britain.

This amendment was lost on division.—Yeas 16, Nays 69.

Mr. Hinkes said that it had been his intention to have made some remarks about the business of the session, but owing to illness of the Premier, he would refrain.

Mr. Mackenzie made a few remarks to the same effect, feelingly speaking of the illness of the Premier, and offering his deep sympathy to Sir John A. Macdonald's family, and an earnest wish that he might be speedily restored to health.

Sir George E. Cartier thanked the hon. members opposite, and read a message from Sir John A. Macdonald, who was then (8:00) enjoying a little rest. He also announced that the House would be prorogued to-morrow at 4 o'clock.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligence.

Some of the most independent columns published by the member for North Hastings in the House of Commons; that course will be remembered at the next election, so that if Mr. Bowell should wish to represent us in the next Parliament, he may consider himself assured of the support of the people of this district.

We live in a more respect or time, but they are those to "try man's soul," and well calculated to lift the wheat from the chaff. When Mr. Macdonald's career of "making man in arms with Richard," the reply of the "little terror," was quite worthy of his antecedents. I have a great admiration for his courage. Most naturally so, "birds of a feather will flock together." Clear now that he had "a man's part" in the settlement of the "little terror." No doubt the Knight of St. Michael and St. George was quite at home in the company of the people of Ontario that the great Government will do nothing to excuse the murderer, but rather give them facilities for escape; and we have no doubt but that they will get up what plunder they can and send to Uncle Sam's asylum for all succour.

Sir John A. Macdonald.

It is gratifying to have continued favorable reports respecting the condition of the Premier. A telegram Saturday evening said he was progressing favorably. A dispatch last evening stated that he continued in a favorable state, and a later telegram said: "Sir John's program is giving the greatest pleasure to all. His physicians are now sanguine of his recovery."

Cabinet Changes.

It is announced that the Hon. Mr. Kennedy, now president of the Committee of the Privy Council, has been appointed temporary to fill the position of Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Nova Scotia, during the absence of Sir John. It is also reported that Mr. Dufferin will take the place of Mr. Kennedy, as President of the Council.

The Expedition.

The two companies of the Ontario Battalion, which left Toronto on Saturday, reached Collingwood at six o'clock, and were at once transferred to the "Ontario." The steamer was loaded with Government stores and left for the Strait at six o'clock, amidst great cheering.

The "Ontario" takes 24 horses to take the stores across the Portage. It is intended to unload everything this side, and try to get through the night light. If she succeeds, she will probably remain at the Portage to assist the "Algonquin" in the conveyance of troops and stores.

If the United States Government persists in preventing her passage, there remains but one course to pursue, and that is to close the Welland Canal at once against all American vessels.

Companies Nos. 2 and 3 of the Ontario Battalion, left Toronto this morning for Collingwood, and the remaining Companies of this Battalion are expected to go on Wednesday or Thursday.

Miscellaneous Statistics.

We gather some further interesting information from the Blue Book, containing Miscellaneous Statistics of Ontario for the year 1868.

According to the returns, it appears the number of persons in the family of each person rated as a resident in the whole Province, was 1,390,276. A note is appended stating that this must not be taken as the total population of Ontario. Until the general census is taken we cannot decide what per centage should be added to these figures for persons not of the family of resident taxpayers.

The number of cattle in the Province was 989,053; sheep, 1,914,886; hogs, 578,988; horses, 347,463; dogs, 110,804.

Why Not?

Le Mireux, the organ of Sir George Grey, the new Sir George Grey, has much to say for a Roman Catholic priest to accompany the expedition to Red River.

It has been suggested that the appointment is to be given to Pere Richard, and why not? Has he not been in the greatest peril by rail and by field? Has he not endured the jeers and ridicule of the base Kankurs to secure for himself and his bosom friend, Hill, the fat and juicy of the land? And has he not secured all he came to obtain? Who so fit as Pere Richard to lead the army who go to Red River to olive branches of peace and gardens of victory in their hands, to wind about the brow?

To make the tableau complete, Pere McManus with a few kindred spirits from Chicago, should be invited to join the successful campaign at Port William and escort to the gates of Fort Gary, even into the centre of the yard where, not two months ago, poor Scott written in mortal agony for two long hours.

What more fitting place to celebrate the victory, than the spot where the martyred Scott gave up his life?

Pere Richard had better not go back. The expedition may be a prearranged, and God grant it may, but the end it is composed of will not tolerate such goings on as Pere Richard and his bosom companions have been indulging in for some months past. The expedition may be a prearranged, and God grant it may, but the end it is composed of will not tolerate such goings on as Pere Richard and his bosom companions have been indulging in for some months past.

The Fisheries.

Some importance is attached to the reports of the Fisheries Commission, and in order to prevent any possible outrage at the result, the "Rescue" is to be sent to that point at once. She will take on fifty Volunteer Artillerymen at Godenich, and will take up a hundred men of the expeditionary force.

E. M. Conference.

The Ontario Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church closed a very harmonious session on Tuesday last. The value of the Conference was said to be in a healthy and prosperous condition. The many friends of Rev. Mr. Wilson, who is to leave that he is to remain here another year.

The Destruction of the British Empire Imminent.

O'NEIL THE BRAVE OF THE WAR-PATH.

The following letter to a party in St. Paul appears in the Press of that city. Even that journal finds too much bromine in it to think that Canada is going to be "gilded" immediately by O'Neil the Brave:

"CHICAGO, May 5, 1870.

"JAMES H. FARRIEL:

"Sir.—This letter is to inform you with what success my efforts have been crowned since you left this city. I have already dispatched one hundred and fifty (150) men to the Frontier. The balance, 500 men, (which constitutes my command) will leave at intervals. They are all determined and true as steel—they have passed through many bloody scenes during the late rebellion, under such men as Morgan, Forrest, Mosby, Gorman, and Mulligan. Every man will be armed with the "Ballard Rifle," sixteen (16) shotguns, brace of navy revolvers and bowie knife. All are deadly and unerring shots at four hundred (400) yards.

"Doubtless you will be my principal mode of fighting. We want the Red-coats that venture into the jungles and bottoms of British North America!

"We ask no quarter, nor will any be given. All prisoners taken will be hung to the first tree; no distinction regarding rank will be considered. Spies and other enemies must keep at a considerable distance—found within our lines death will be their portion. The results that Burke, Rose, MacKay, and others have been subjected to, will not be forgotten.

"As this is their first effort to subjugate the people of Red River, it will be their last.

"By the time my command get through with these English dogs, they will be a new set of men and bloody ground will have an easy job. I will tell my deputy between the hours of 8 and 12 p. m., for the new set of men and bloody ground will have an easy job. I will tell my deputy between the hours of 8 and 12 p. m., for the new set of men and bloody ground will have an easy job.

"I remain, as ever, yours, with much esteem, The Red C. A. Smith Esq. until death.

O'NEIL, THE BRAVE OF THE WAR-PATH.

"Captain Commanding Mountain Rangers."

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD.—A telegram last evening says: "Sir John's program is slow but decided. He is able to take more movement to-day, but still extremely weak. A later dispatch said that Sir John had improved so much yesterday, that he was able to sit up and take some food."

TO THE PENITENTIARY.—The little Smith, who was convicted of rape upon the Miss Smith at Brighton, and who was sentenced to death, has had a sentence commuted to fourteen years imprisonment in the Penitentiary. THE ENGINEERS AND MINING JOURNAL for April, has been received. It is of considerable interest to a great variety of subjects, and many of which are profusely illustrated. This work is a marvel of completeness, furnishing for $1 a year an amount of scientific reading which in other forms would cost ten times the sum. Published by Wetmore & Co., 37 Park Row, N. Y.

MARSHALL'S TROUPE performed to a very fair house last evening, and gave general satisfaction. Dora played her part happily, and was repeatedly applauded. Harry Lindley played Farmer Allan in excellent style, and was warmly supported. The "French Spy" will be given, followed by the farcical absurdity of "The Weavers."

GOLD NEWS.—The "Morning" of today says: "Dr. Williams was in the village in the beginning of the week, and exhibited an amount of nerve and courage, wading two leagues and half an ocean, and worth in round numbers, $200. This is the product of his churning up at the mill on 107 in the vicinity of Marston, from about $5 tons of coal. The cost of getting out the gold has been reduced to $1.50 per ton."

CASE OF CHIEF COX.—A despatch from Toronto says: "A rumor of an crime, at next session before the police in high circles in Toronto, is current. The wife of a certain Major in the Volunteer force left him some time ago because of bad treatment. Since that he has been jealous of a Colonel who has shown some kindness to the unfortunate woman. The Major knocked the Colonel down twice in the street, and on two occasions, for assault and crime, are likely to be the consequence."

An Amnesty.

The rumor of a general amnesty to Rell and his fellow murderers is repeated by a French Canadian paper in Quebec. The paper says the Imperial Government will shortly proclaim an amnesty for the North West. The amnesty will naturally include Rell, and we may be by and by expected to see him take his seat in the House of Commons not far from Mr. McDougall. This, while a pleasant thought, would be a pretty spectacle! No doubt of it; and from the evident penchant to French Roman Catholicism which has been manifest all through this North West business, we will not be surprised if the rumor proves true.

It's unfortunate that it was not known before the expedition was recruited. There are scores of young men in the ranks of the Ontario Battalion who would never have taken the oath of service in Red River, if it had been known that such ignominious and dishonorable terms were to be made with the foul murderer of their fellow volunteers and comrades, the loyal and patriotic Scott. The same spirit of patriotism induced them to undertake the privations and hardships of the "uncertain march" as one of the volunteers term it, to Fort Garry, that was exhibited by the martyred Scott, when he refused to forego his allegiance to his country, and if they had conceived it possible that they were going to Red River to offer the olive branch of peace to Rell, they would have done his arms, think you they would have gone? Not a step. Here is what one of the volunteers from this section writes to his home:

"The war wagons and guns that are moving around here make things look lively. The honor of the old 49th will be upheld, and laurels won to crown it with 'John Johnny come marching home.' The Soldier Rell will be handled for the first time to quell a rebellion, and nobly will they do it. The country will get the proof of the members of the 49th, who risked their lives in honor of the old flag. It is not because the Government calls us, but of our own free will. One of our fellow volunteers has been cruelly slain. Does he lie unworried? No! The country says so, and so the Government. Rest assured if the Government calls us, it will be a big lunch. We will spread the cloth for the feast, but the meal will be cold, the wine will be blood, and the land they ask for for church purposes, we will give them in lots, in the shape of a comfortable and well sheltered grave, their only dream. The houses stand on sand and ice. Rell's stands on British ground in a wrong case. The wind has blown, he is shaking, he is now on the edge of the dark abyss, and he must go."

The Expedition.

The Christian passed west last evening with 300 men of the 60th Rifles, 30 men of the Royal Artillery, 30 Royal Engineers, and 16 horses, destined for service in the Red River Expedition. This also had in the rear of the main body of men used in the late Algonquin campaign, which are a little over 3 feet in length, 8 inch broad, 173 lbs. in weight, with carriage 500 lbs. and are constructed so as to be drawn by five men. No bulks are used, but the wheel filled with sand, and plugged, making a charge of about 11 inches.

The Montreal Gazette says: It is now all but certain, that at least half of the Red River volunteers will be disbanded in about three months, when they will be their own fault if they do not take up the productive land grants which will be placed at their disposal by the Dominion Government, with the object of inducing them to settle in and put a new back bone into the Red River country.

The Wreckers arrived at St. Marie on the 18th inst, with troops and stores. The Algonquin was to leave the same evening for Fort William. The Globe's correspondent says: "There was considerable delay in the departure, in consequence of the Portage being bad. There was a guard of 30 men and an officer on board last night, in consequence of an expected Pontiac attempt. At present all is quiet. All are well at the camp, the men being chiefly employed in fatigue parties. The guards on the American side have been doubled for fear of an attempt on the camp. Several deserters have come to our side."

The Ontario says: "The officers and crew of the 'Keweenaw' for destroying the 'Alabama'."

The St. Catharines Journal of the 18th inst. says: "It is rumored on the streets that the Government has issued a contract to the pro-Ontario to close the Welland Canal to narrow gauged boats, if the Chippewas are not allowed to pass through the Welland Canal."

—During a quarrel on the 19th inst, between John and George Downie, John killed George with a pistol-shot, striking him several times in the head, and leaving him a lifeless corpse at his feet. John was arrested, and subsequently made his escape.

Around Town.

The warm weather is upon us, and there is a great deal of cleaning up to be done before the facilities required of the Board of Health are completed with. If the inhabitants will comply with those regulations by simply asking, it is to be hoped they will be complied to. Cleanliness is the best preventive of disease and epidemic.

What a magnificent panorama nature presents just now! The forest trees clothed with luxuriant foliage, the orchards are in bloom, the meadows are green, and the richest coloring, the fields are covered with verdure, the plants are putting forth their prettiest flowers, a sweet, delicious perfume fills the atmosphere, and nestling in the branches, and perched upon the boughs, and singing high in the air, the birds are singing their sweetest songs, and praising God for all His mercies.

Seed flies are seen in myriads at the bay and elsewhere.

The London Advertiser says: "Addison's 'Spectator' tells of a 'Two-penny Club,' one of the rules of which was that if any member cures or swears, his neighbor may give him a kick on the shin."

Two-penny Clubs were formed in Belleville, there would be a good many kicked shins.

Soda Water fountains are doing a roaring business both hot and piping days.

Who that enjoys the graceful, graceful shade of the Arctica of maple on Taylor's Hill these hot days, but is grateful to the man who first suggested the planting of shade trees. They are a comfort and a blessing, and continually present the serene, "plant shade trees."

The Bass Ball Club of Belleville are practicing every evening, and make excellent play.

Building operations are being conducted vigorously in various parts of the Town. No place in the country is going ahead so rapidly as the "City of the Bay."

The Town Council have ordered shade trees to be planted around the hospital lot. A capital move.

The police may say with Othello that "their occupation is gone," so quiet has the Town become.

Angels may not know that the practice of letting fish gasp out their lives on shore, after being taken out of the water in a bad one, and it is too much to be continued by many.

From more thoughtful minds, it is feared, and analogy would bear out the statement as correct, that the fish killed at once after being removed from the water, are superior in flavor and flavor to those which are allowed to die gradually. A gentleman recently travelling among the Indians stated that their practice was to kill the fish immediately, the result being a great improvement over those allowed to die in the usual way.

The crowd to-day in what is known as the "Water Market," was so great that the water was extremely difficult. Immediate steps should be taken to enlarge the building or put up a new one.

Farmers tell that the country looks decidedly, dress themselves well. The spring work is nearly over, and early sowing is already up, completely covering the ground. Fall rains in some places are not so much to be feared, but there is not much of grain in this section. The frost crop will be abundant if front does not injure it. A little rain is desired just now, and from appearance we are likely to get it before many hours.

The Market to-day was very well attended, the supply of everything in season being abundant.

Spring regulations, such as lettuce, radishes, asparagus, rhubarb, &c., were plentiful on the market this morning.

death of the first Napoleon, the numerous masses were critical in several chapters, especially at the Tuilleries, in presence of the Imperial family. There was a time when this episode served also to rally the nationalists against the great man, "gader" — Sir Hudson Lowe — whose name became the synonym for persecution and whose "crucifixion" of the innocent, found expression in a moving drama or a screaming farce. In England Sir Hudson was accused of the Lilliputian amusement of sticking pins

And needles in the great man's breeches.
Five days before his death, Napoleon was seated with a shivering fit, and nothing could restore the natural warmth of the body. The English doctors were honored by being consulted, but were not allowed to see the patient — whose last words were "head-ache." In accordance with his wish, the autopsy was made to ascertain the cause of death, with the view of preventing the same disease — if it existed in his case. The father died of a stomach complaint — Napoleon the second of consumption. The father's heir bequeathed to his wife, Maria Louisa, was deposited in a silver urn. On his coffin were placed his sword and the colored cock he wore at Marengo, and now in possession of the present Emperor. The French do not forget the testimony borne by nature to his greatness at the moment he died, a frightful harrowing shock the late from his property.

"When beggars die there are no comings
The heavens themselves, dash forth the death of Princes."

Although in their latter days the revolutionary party, called the "fame of the glorious depot" — the nation will never forget Austria and Marengo. Forages to come, Napoleon will be a name to conjure with.

The Queen's Birthday.

The anniversary of Her Majesty's Birth day was celebrated yesterday in Belleville with more than ordinary enthusiasm. The weather was all that could be desired, a heavy shower the night before laying the dust nicely and cooling the atmosphere. The day was ushered in by a royal salute, both at the Railway Station and in the Town, and the continual firing of pistols, gunshots, etc., from early in the previous evening until the close of the next day, gave abundant evidence that some event of more than ordinary importance was being commemorated.

The display of bunting was large, every one who could procure a flag had it floating in the breeze, and all business being suspended, and the streets being crowded with men, women and children dressed in their best, gave a holiday appearance to the town.

My daylight the 15th Battalion Band under the leadership of Prof. Armstrong, being under command of Lieut. Col. Brown of the 49th Battalion, turned out headed by the Band, and marched through the principal streets to the Court House hill where a dejeuner was fired and some very fine movements executed in a satisfactory manner.

About two o'clock the Fire Brigade headed by the Band made a parade through the principal streets. The turn-out was large and the display was the best the Fire Department has made for many years. The torchlight procession in the evening was the best part of the Firemen's programme. The procession started from the Town Hall, marched down Front Street to the market square, thence up Pineau Street to Bridge Street, thence as far as Mr. Corby's residence, and from thence to the Court House hill. The torches, and the Court House hill. The torches, and the Court House hill.

OGDENSBURG, May 25.
From a reliable gentleman just from St. Albans, we learn that the riotous scene of Fenian gatherings are very much disturbed. There are not over five hundred men at St. Albans, and very few at different points mentioned along the line. Men, ammunition and supplies are undoubtedly moving, but not in nearly so great numbers as four years ago. The United States troops are under orders to stop the movement.

MONTREAL, May 25.
The Queen's Birthday did not pass off as quietly as usual.

The Volunteers found themselves suddenly called upon to face an enemy. The news was read by them with cheer, and shortly afterwards a detachment was ready for the front. They left the depot at 4 p. m., under command of Col. O. Smith, and accompanied by the bands of the Prince of Wales and Garrison Artillery. Large crowds of citizens were down the avenue. All started at 7 p. m. Heavy guns mounted at Victoria Bridge.

Col. Smith led the 74th Brigade, with their band marched to Point St. Charles, there to take special train to the frontier.

Prince Arthur is going as part of the staff of Lord A. Russell. The Battery of Royal Artillery also left for St. John's. The 74th Brigade now are, 900 more Volunteers are expected to leave here this afternoon.

The latest reports indicate that the Fenians have crossed the frontier at Trout River, near Hochelaga, and that others are leaving various stations on the American side, where their destruction being feared.

Precise information has been received here that between Franklin, Vt., and the line, there were yesterday afternoon trying to cross the border, and carried 50 or 60 arms, some 600 boxes of arms and ammunition.

The 9th Regiment from Quebec are expected here at 4 o'clock.

Telegrams have just been received, stating that a man called a party of Fenians who had crossed the line at Point St. Charles, where they attacked our guard, and firing is now going on from both sides.

The General Prisoners took two Fenian prisoners last night, one named Thomas Murphy who had his certificate as a Fenian, and Captain, the other named Lewis.

It is said that Hon. Mr. Howe will be appointed Lieut.-Governor of Nova Scotia in a few months.

The Fenians Again.

How much longer are we to be annoyed by the Fenian organization? Every six months or fifteen the country is thrown into a state of excitement, trade is paralyzed, manufactures stopped, the whole machinery of business disorganized, thousands of men taken from their employment, and the country subjected to an enormous expense, by the recurrence of these Fenian alarms. It is only a few weeks ago that our borders were thrown into a state of great excitement by a threatened invasion, thousands of men were taken from their employment at great inconvenience and sent to the front, and they had scarcely returned to their avocations before the alarm is again sounded, and the country is excited from one end of the Province to the other. How long is this state of things to continue? How long will we tamely submit to the conditions which permits the possibility of our shores being invaded by the people of a country with which we are at peace? There is no peace, there is no peace with a nation which allows such an armed organization to exist, which feeds it and nourishes it, and pays it on the back while it is preparing for its mission of pillage, rapine and murder.

It is all very well for President Grant to issue his proclamation after the Fenians have gathered on the border, after they have been months at work sending arms and ammunition to the Fenian camps along the line, and after they had drilled and been perfected in the art of war. What he should have done, and what the British Government should long ere this have been demanded, was to put down the organization, make them give up their arms, and give satisfactory assurances that that source, if that is not done, then let Great Britain treat it as a casus belli, and settle the difficulty in the usual manner. Such a demand made in great earnest would soon bring the Yankees to terms.

to Miss Bella Keith each a gold ring, as a memento of the interest manifested in the welfare of the Company in the late presentation of a flag to the Company. The rings were manufactured by Mr. John Taylor, jeweller, and were neatly chased and suitably inscribed.

Disgraceful Row.

At the hall of No. 2 Fire Company last night in Ontario Hall, a disgraceful row occurred, during which Patrick Lawlor was severely injured, and was fired at by James Cummins, Captain of the Company. The row was manufactured by Mr. John Taylor, jeweller, and were neatly chased and suitably inscribed.

Patrick Lawlor went up into the hall during the evening in an intoxicated condition and created some disturbance. A general row occurred during which Lawlor was pitched down stairs. He was considerably cut and bruised, and said to our informant, that he had been pitched upon by some of the twenty party and had been injured. He told them he was prepared to "lick any one of them," but he could not manage as many as they. Some parties told him that they would see him fair play, and he went up stairs again. He got to the landing Cummins rushed at him, and there was a general scrimmage. A dozen or more came tumbling down stairs, and amongst them Cummins and Lawlor, who had held of each other. Lawlor gave Cummins several blows. They were separated after some difficulty, and Cummins went up again into the hall, and procured a revolver from a party in the room and rushed down again where he shot Lawlor and several others. He took down Liberator into Lawlor and fired three shots, stating at the same time, "you d—d son of a b—h, take that, and that, and that."

At the second shot Lawlor fell, and when down Cummins fired the third shot, without, however, taking effect. Lawlor picked up some stones and threw at Cummins who escaped up stairs. Information was laid before the Police Magistrate, and we understand a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Cummins. Our informant says the Westsides asked to arrest Cummins, but they refused to do so, asserting that they had no authority without a warrant first being issued. If these facts be true, and very given to the policemen by respectable men, then their conduct is altogether inexplicable, and should be made a subject of inquiry.

As the case will be brought before the Police Magistrate we refrain from further comment until the whole evidence is made public.

A Deserved Testimonial.

The friends of Temperance in Belleville have now to the hands of Mr. S. A. Moore, marble carver, a fine monument which they propose erecting to the memory of the late Aaron Dame, Esq., one of the earliest and warmest friends of Temperance the cause ever had in Belleville. The inscription on the monument is "In memory of Aaron Dame, born Sept. 1st, 1792, died August 7th, 1864, a zealous and untiring advocate of total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors. A truly good man. Erected by the friends of temperance." The monument is to be about twelve feet in height, resting upon a large piece of fine marble from the Bridgewater quarries, furnished by Hon. B. Pilot, the whole costing when completed about $150. This amount has already been subscribed through the efforts of the principal promoters, Dr. H. Holden, E. W. Holden, Dr. Relyea, and others; and is a deserved testimonial to a consistent, zealous, and long-tried friend of total abstinence. It will be ready for erection in a week or two.

Fire in Quebec.

The following are the particulars of the great fire which occurred in Quebec yesterday. It broke out in the morning in a baker's shop in St. Roch's, and before 10 o'clock had destroyed over 500 houses, two shops on the stocks, and property generally, to the amount of over $100,000, and rendered homeless and destitute over 5,000 or 6,000 persons, most of whom suffered by dreadful fire of 1860. The destruction, however, would have been far greater and no doubt the whole of St. Roch's suburb would have again passed through the fiery ordeal, so high was the wind, had not a heavy rain set in about 7 o'clock in the morning, which did much to stop the progress of the flames. The troops turned out, and attempts were made, at an early stage of the fire to cut it off by blowing up the ships burned were owned by Mr. Baldwin, and were on the point of being launched; most of the buildings destroyed were of the better class, having been rebuilt in brick since the fire of '90; a good many, however, were of the old wooden buildings. Quite a number of accidents occurred. Two men are supposed to be lost. St. Roch's Church narrowly escaped, as also Jacques Cartier Market Hall, the City and Corporation are busy all day providing accommodation for the homeless, most of whom will be lodged in the Market Hall and Jean-Baptiste. Most of the unfortunate people burned out are of the poorer class, and no doubt the outside public come as generally to the aid of the ancient capital now as in the past.

Grant's Proclamation.

President Grant has issued the following proclamation:—
By the President of the United States:—
Whereas it has come to my knowledge that sundry illegal military enterprises and expeditions are being set on foot within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States, with a view to carry on the same from such territory and jurisdiction against the people and district of the Dominion of Canada, within the dominions of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and with a view to the seizure of the same; and whereas I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby solemnly adjure all good citizens of the United States, and all persons within the military jurisdiction of the United States, against aiding, abetting, assisting, or in any way participating in such unlawful proceedings, and I do hereby warn all persons that by committing such illegal acts they will forfeit all right to the protection of this Government, or to its interference in their behalf to rescue them from the consequences of their own acts, and I hereby enjoin all officers in the service of the United States, and all persons in the military and naval service, to prevent and detect the same, and to arrest and bring to justice all persons who may be engaged therein, and to report the same to the nearest military or naval authority, and to cause the same to be notified to the United States to be notified.

FENIAN NEWS.

FROM EAST AND WEST.

CROSSING THE LINES.

PILLAGING THE STORES.

Fighting Commenced.

O'NEILL IN COMMAND.

GATHERING FROM ALL POINTS.

The town yesterday was thrown into great excitement by the rumor of a threatened Fenian invasion. Two extra trains were sent from the Belleville office, giving all the information that could be procured up to the evening. Another extra was issued this morning, and from despatches received in a few hours it was ascertained that the Fenians are concentrating in considerable numbers along the border. The following is the latest news received during the day by telegram and otherwise.

The Grand Trunk officials at this station received orders last evening to have all the Engines steamed up and ready to transport troops east or west, and in accordance with these orders everything is in readiness in a short time.

8000 Volunteers were expected to leave Montreal last night and to day for the Eastern Townships.

The Volunteers in the West are all called out and several Companies are already moving.

The Welland Canal is threatened.

It is said that Fenians from beyond Chicago are moving towards River.

The Ottawa Field Battery arrived at Prescott this morning.

ST. LOUIS.

Telegrams received here this afternoon state that large numbers of men and wagons were moving from Malton to St. Regis. The force had 8000 stand of arms, 5000 pounds of powder, and 200000 rounds of ammunition, and were well supplied with food and provisions. They were nearly all young men and were under military discipline.

CROSSED THE BORDER—PILLAGING COMMENCED.

Latest telegrams inform us that the Fenians in large numbers are concentrating along the border, and were making for Huntington, in the Eastern Townships. Their principal aim is in a short time to cross the line in great numbers. Reinforcements were expected, and as the Canadian troops had not arrived at Huntington the Fenians were expected to have it all their own way. Pillaging the stores of Canadians had already commenced.

SYRACUSE, May 25.

Five hundred Fenians have left this port for the movement on Canada. Three hundred left by the east by last night's midnight train, and about two hundred had gone promiscuously in small squads.

A special to an evening paper dated St. Albans, states that General O'Neill crossed the line last night. Troops are moving in the direction of Trout River, and the force had commenced to cross the line in great numbers. Reinforcements were expected, and as the Canadian troops had not arrived at Huntington the Fenians were expected to have it all their own way. Pillaging the stores of Canadians had already commenced.

The Vermont detachment is commanded by Col. Lewis.

The Red River expedition was authorized by the entire Brotherhood, and the troops are acting under direction of the Executive Council. They are now organizing to meet the force which the Canadian Government is sending to Red River.

General Gleason is understood not to approve of the present action of O'Neill.

Notwithstanding the opposition of the Executive Council, and the indifference of the Savage branch of the Fenian Brotherhood, it was rumored that during yesterday not less than 600 men with their officers left by the several trains from this city, for the border.

Yesterday between 90 and 100 Fenians left Newark to join their comrades. A meeting was held at the Fenian head quarters last evening. The business was transacted.

DETROIT, May 25.

The city is filled with rumors of Fenian movement.

Two large barges with 200 men are reported to have left the dock last night.

CINCINNATI, May 25.

Col. Stetson, Col. Tracy, Major O'Keefe, and three privates left here last night for the North, officers to get some more killed, the organization refused to furnish money, arms or maintenance an attempt which is regarded as fraught with failure.

FROM RED RIVER.

The news from Red River say that everything was quiet, and business was improving. Hottel has only a few men under arms, but says he is ready to resort to force if the delegates' demands are not granted.

The hunters are waiting to see how the news is acted, as they are prepared to fight for the Provisional Government. No measures of defence have been adopted as yet.

Hottel had made some changes in his administration, and made a public speech.

Penian struggle, who literally imported men and horses, and who were seen to seize a wreck by the collar and hold him clean off the ground and dashed him senseless to the earth to the great amusement of the crowd and to the infinite disgust of the victim, who was pounced upon by an infantry man and conducted to the rear. When the main body of the Fenians crossed the line, Capt. Muir at once called off his men and took up a position to the right of the 90th. The Fenians were rushing up, but the enemy was out of sight and safely concealed on the Yankee side before they had a chance of firing a shot. The whole force then paraded when it was found that not a man was hurt, although several had most extraordinary escapes. The greatest exultation prevailed and everybody was disgusted at the cowardly conduct of the foe.

The Fenians about 5 p.m., re-appeared near the huge rock on the American side opposite the Hill, but were in no great humor for fighting, and a few well-directed shots sent them to their cover. The dead and wounded Fenians to the number of twelve were then carried by Col. Chamberlain. The boy officers who were wounded in the second attack stated that the Fenian force amounted to 375, commanded by 10 officers; that O'Neill was afraid to head the attack himself, giving an excuse that he was engaged on a strange "singerie" mission.

Col. Chamberlain's force consisted of fifty men of his own battalion and forty-six civilians. Too much praise cannot be awarded them.

Daily Intelligence.

Belleville, Friday, May 27.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD—Telegrams from Ottawa to day say that Sir John A. Macdonald is slowly improving.

CELEBRATED PERFORMERS—One of the spectacles of the season, the "Lancers, North & Co.", with a band of thirty Agents, Messrs. A. & J. McPeck, on Monday, June 6th, 1870, to assist them in fitting difficult acts. Remember the date, June 6th.

THE BAND—Last evening the excellent band of the 10th Battalion, under the leadership of Prof. Armstrong, played for nearly two hours on the Court House lawn, to the evident delight of a great number of ladies and gentlemen who were assembled to listen to the sweet strains.

EMIGRANTS—Sixteen cars of emigrants passed up at 3.30 this morning, containing 800 Stronachs for the Western States, and 377 English for Canada. A number of young lads went up by another train, six of whom got off here, and have gone to Madoc this afternoon in charge of a Schoolmaster who accompanied them from England.

DEATH DUTY—Death has been busy with the old residents of Belleville and several within the last few months have gone to their long home. On Tuesday, the remains of John Owen Esq., one of the oldest residents of that town, were conveyed to the grave, and we regret to learn this morning that James Cavan, Esq., of Maryburg, is dangerously ill and cannot possibly recover.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS—The Minister of Militia seems to have been singularly unfortunate in late appointments. In Quebec, a number of officers resigned on account of the appointment of a Deputy Adjutant-General, in which all the Volunteer corps were overlooked. In the Cobourg District, a similar mistake has been made. The Star says "Mr. George E. Carter may not assured the matter will not be allowed to drop in the quiet manner which he evidently desires."

THE SILVER TRAVELERS IN KINGSTON—The merchants and traders of Kingston held a meeting on the 25th May, to consider the silver question, and after some talk decided to receive and pay out the depreciated silver currency at the following rates of discount:—Half dollars, 66c or 34c; Quarter dollars, 25c or 75c; British currency, 10c or 74c; Dime, 9c or 74c; Half penny, 4c or 74c. It will not be long before the difficulties herebefore so seriously felt by all parties upon this question, will have passed away.

WHITNEY RACE—The race meeting at Whitney, which was so successfully inaugurated on the 24th, was continued, with but slightly diminished attendance, on the two following days. Wednesday's programme consisted of the Club purse of $100 for first horse and $50 for second, which "Sir Archibald" carried off; the Trivette purse, won by "Nettie" and a trotting race of $100 for first and $25 for second, mile heats, which "Whitcomb" had difficulty in securing the sport on Thursday commenced with a hurdle race of two miles, over eight flights of hurdles, which "Catacomb" won after knocking down six of the hurdles. The Province Handicap was carried off by "Chas. Stewart," after a close and exciting struggle with "Nettie," who conceded 10 lbs. to the winner. For the trotting race of $100, open to all mile heats, it is only "Johnnie Moore" and "Juchman" entered, the former winning, though heavy odds were laid against him. The consolation race was won by "Honny Bree," before two others. The Ontario Trot Club may fairly be congratulated on the success of their meeting.

Fenian News.

From the reports which will be found in other columns, it will be seen that there is serious work yet to do, the Fenians are having yet been driven out of the country. The movement going on in every part of the American Union, prove the thorough organization that exists, and the secrecy with which the schemes and plans of these cut-throat scoundrels have been made. They also show that the Dominion Government had sufficient information to justify them in asking Parliament to pass a law suspending the Habeas Corpus Act, and that the Minister was not justly chargeable with creating needless alarm.

Cable telegrams show that the English press is at last waking up to the true state of affairs in this country, and the Times notwithstanding its former temporizing policy, now demands that the troops be sent to Canada immediately, and that "Canada must have no tenderness for this 'cond offence'." That the "marauders" must be treated as robbers, ruffians and "murderers." This is a sentiment which every Canadian will echo. Though the Times speaks out thus forcibly upon the issue, it is truly surprising that the English press is not or will not understand the true feelings of the American people. To bespatter the President and his Cabinet with fulsome praise for issuing a proclamation warning men not to violate the neutrality laws, when they had allowed them to be treated as robbers, ruffians and "murderers" is a sentiment which every Canadian will echo. Though the Times speaks out thus forcibly upon the issue, it is truly surprising that the English press is not or will not understand the true feelings of the American people.

THE FENIAN RAID.

The 47th Battalion were ordered out, and arrived in Kingston yesterday. They are billeted at the hotels and private houses.

The steamer "Magnet," on her way to Montreal on the 25th, was fired at by a party of 200 men, two pieces of artillery, and a number of horses for Cornwall.

The Fenian loss in the first battle was six killed and about twice that number wounded and four prisoners. The prisoners were taken to Montreal. Not a single Canadian was hurt in the fight. The Fenian volunteers behaved nobly throughout. An account of the battle will be found on the first page and a more detailed account will be published to-morrow.

FROM CORNWALL.

Cornwall was in a state of great excitement yesterday. A force of 100 Fenians were camped within six miles of Cornwall. The 59th Battalion was immediately put under arms, and a patrol ordered to patrol the Canal. Reinforcements arrived from Cornwall consisting of the Garrison Artillery and four companies. They landed at 2.15 p.m. from the Magnet, and were received by the Band of the 90th and the Cavalry now numbering thirty horses. Last evening a corps arrived from Brockville under Col. Crawford. The Irish Brigade, under Captain McDonald has also arrived.

SUSPICIOUS STRANGERS.

Guards have been placed in all the banks and public buildings in Ottawa, there being a number of suspicious strangers in the city.

19 MEN REPORTED SHOT.

Word reached Ottawa yesterday that 19 men on picket duty were shot last night near Freilburg by the Fenian bushwhackers.

THE NIAGARA FRONTIER THREAT.

One of the sons of Bryan Woods sold the land in question to the defendant, and he has since sold it to his wife, and that an arrangement had been made before the purchase by which Bryan should have the land as his share of the estate. Defendant failed to establish this, but he says that the son was an heir. Decree for partition A. B. Douglas and Thomas Hodges for plaintiff. A. B. Douglas, Q. C. for defendant.

HALL'S LAMBERT.—The late Tobias Bleeker had sold some land near the Railway Station to defendant, on which he built a house, and subsequently gave a mortgage to the plaintiff, but afterwards appeared that the description of the land in the deed and mortgage had been incorrect. Plaintiff then paid in the balance due Bleeker on the original purchase, and filed his bill to recover the mortgage. Defendant submitted to this contention, but contested payment of costs. Decree for plaintiff with costs of an ordinary foreclosure suit. Reference to master. Dickson & Gilbert for plaintiff. A. B. Douglas and Thomas Hodges for defendant.

WHAT THE FEELING IS.

The following is an extract of a letter from an old INTELLIGENCER boy, at present residing in Auburn, N.Y., dated 25th inst.:

"Will you please send me the Daily Intelligence, instead of the weekly? I have no leisure to know what is going on in Canada, and I am so far from being able to get it. There is considerable stir in Fenian circles here, and this time the last two days as many as 150 have left Auburn, destination unknown; but there is a great deal of excitement here at the present time, and the entire American press is urging them on with the words of 'God speed' and a happy return."

THE RAID.

Morning Despatches.

1,500 Fenians Marching on Canada.

THE VOLUNTEERS GO TO MEET THEM.

FENIANS STILL IN FORCE AT PIGEON HILL.

Yankee Sympathy for the Raiders.

Montreal, May 27th, 9 A.M.

Gen. Gleason, the Fenian General, reports from Trout River that he has 1,500 men, and is receiving reinforcements, and that he is marching into Canada.

Col. Muir with a squad of his troops met Gen. Gleason at daybreak to meet and attack him.

Our office at South Hinchbrook was taken possession of and sacked yesterday. All the Volunteers are again ordered to the front.

At Pigeon Hill the Fenians are said to be well fortified.

There are small squads of Fenians camped near Island Pond.

The Volunteers in every quarter are telegraphing that they are ready, and asking for immediate orders to join.

FENIAN MOVEMENTS IN CINCINNATI.

One or two secret meetings of persons friendly to the present Fenian movement, were held last night, and it is understood a public meeting will be held to-night if the news is favorable from Canada to-day.

Noon Despatches.

General Gleason at the head of 2,000 men.

GEN. SPEAR TO TAKE COMMAND.

GLEASON CROSSED INTO CANADA.

NEW YORK, May 27th.

A special says that when Gen. Gleason crossed into Canada, near Malone yesterday, he had with him 2,000 men, and that he had since been largely reinforced. He now occupies a position four miles beyond the line; he is better clothed, stronger, and confident of holding his position.

News has just been received, that after the arrest of Gen. O'Neill, and his incarceration in Burlington prison, Gen. Samuel P. Spear was appointed commander-in-chief, and placed at once to leave his orders in face of United States Marshal Foster.

Gen. Spear will either cross the Canadian border at some point not heretofore attempted, or re-inforce Gen. O'Neill, who is now in the enemy's country. This statement is by authority.

The private express great dissatisfaction with the plan to plan to take the Fenians to the young to plan and to be incited to excitement that it is both practically and theoretically incompetent.

A despatch from Gen. Gleason dated at Trout River last evening, says that he would fight before day light.

A special to the World from Malone, N.Y., says that an engagement will doubtless take place to-morrow.

The Fenians are orderly, and are on excellent terms with residents along the line, although considerable apprehension is felt.

The Fenians Routed.

Montreal, May 27th, 10 o'clock.

The Fenians near Trout River fled the first shot. The engagement has commenced, and the Fenians are being rapidly driven across the line, leaving their knapsacks scattered over the field. No casualties reported.

Afternoon Despatches.

From St. Albans.

Denouncing O'Neill.

Fenians in Force.

An Attack Expected.

Victorias Got the March.

Philadelphia, Friday 1 A.M.

From all I could learn, the Fenians at St. Albans were highly incensed against O'Neill whom they accuse of having provoked the battle on the lines arranged for his own art.

Persons who came from St. Albans last evening report the Fenians in force there, and charged. Last evening the field pieces of the Fenians, captured on the 25th, were brought here in charge of a party of the home guards, the gun carriage and carriage box are painted green and the caissons are several mounted and look as if they were for frontier service.

If the Volunteers had had such a field piece on the 25th, the Fenians could never have held their position among the woods there as they did against the rifle bullets.

S. A. M.—Hurt and McCall, the Fenian promoters, are all to be sent to Newbury 12 miles distant. Both are hard looking fellows.

The Fenians after their victory, and a good night's rest looked well this morning; a splendid weather.

S. A. M.—On my way to the front I met Capt. Muir with a squad of his troops and Gen. Gleason returning to head quarters to pacify the country.

Capt. Muir reports that 300 Fenians under a General left St. Albans last night, to attack Col. Smith's position at day light.

To-day the Fenians at Stratford, got the route at 8.40, and were on the march ten minutes afterwards. Nothing was heard of the Fenians when Capt. Muir left the camp.

The Cookshire troops of Cavalry are expected here hourly.

THE FIGHT THIS MORNING.

A Bull Run Skedaddle.

THE FORCES ENGAGED.

One Killed—Several Wounded.

U. S. FORCES COMING.

HITCHHIKING, MAY 27.

This morning at 5 o'clock the troops at Huntington, made an advance. The force was composed of the 60th regiment, the Garrison Artillery and Engineers of Montreal, and the Huntington Battalion. Your correspondent arrived at Trout River lines an hour in advance of them, and saw the Fenians forming in front with ranks leading across the field on the north bank of the Trout River and half a mile from our side.

At halfpast eight our troops came up, when Col. Bagot ordered the Huntington Volunteers under Col. McDonald, to deploy across the field. The 60th were also ordered to advance along the road, and the artillery to cross the river and go up the South bank.

These manoeuvres were performed at once, and the whole line opened fire. The Fenians did immediately, and firing twenty shots, such a skedaddle was never seen since Bull Run. Our men followed, firing as they went, until they reached the boundary line, when they stopped.

The Fenian officers tried to form their men on crossing the line, using their swords and revolvers, but all in vain; on they rushed to their old camping ground.

None of our men were hurt, and it is supposed the Fenians only had a few wounded. One is killed, and we have one prisoner.

The United States troops are advancing from Malone, and will take them prisoners on the field. The Fenians number 400. Our troops still remain at the boundary line.

FENIANS DEMORALIZED.

ST. ALBANS, May 27.

The only Fenians that fled for their homes last evening, were the Burlington boys, the rest remained and were provided with food by order of U. S. Marshal Foster and the village authorities. Some found shelter at the depot and with friends, but many were compelled to remain outdoors. The men and officers seem to be without money. Some say O'Neill has with him, but it is doubted.

Gen. Spear, Gleason and Prim, who arrived this morning, have with others of the Brotherhood, been in close consultation. Gen. Spear has just ordered the men to go into camp about 2 or 3 miles from here.

ST. ALBANS, May 27.

Gen. Spear wrote the men to return to the Canadian line to drive the Fenians troops from the line.

United States Marshal Reed received a telegram last night that the Government will pay the Fenians transportation to their homes, but that the expense must be borne by the State Government.
